Official disagrees with idle monies account

By ELLIS CUEVAS
J. D. McCullough, Superintendent of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School System disagrees with a recent news article and editorial in daily newspapers.

In a meeting Wednesday with the Superintendent and their auditing firm, an explanation of the audit was presented.

McCullough and the auditor said Wednesday they did not have idle monies in the amount of $485,000 in checking accounts on June 30, 1978, as earlier reported.

Richard (Dick) Thomas, manager of Moore and Powell Certified Public Accountants stated that as of June 30, 1978 there was a total of $439,197 in checking accounts but they were all earmarked as follows:

"In the budgeted fund account the school system had $512 in the minimum education fund. This excess money was returned to the state."

"The district maintenance fund had a total of $163,512."

McCullough said these monies were incorporated into the 1978-79 budget year which started July 1, 1978.

Of this amount some was used for general summer maintenance of the schools and general operations.

"These monies helped carry the system over until the big tax monies come in during January, February and March," McCullough said.

In the Title I and IV programs, which are federal funds, the two officials said a total of $1,412 was on hand with some June bills to pay.

Whatever was left over had to be reduced in the amount received for the next year by the school system, the two added.

The special municipal school addition fund had a total of $140,273 in the checking account. The new Junior High cafeteria still had Certificates (Bills) of payment due on the construction of the facility.

The Junior High addition and renovation account fund had $21,863 on June 30, 1978. "This money was earmarked for the renovation of the old cafeteria, turning it back into classrooms," McCullough allowed.

A total of $11,421 was in the North Bay renovation fund. This money was paid in July for the renovation of North Bay Elementary, according to McCullough.

The need of three new school buses had $43,950 in checking, the superintendent said.

McCullough added, "We advertised for the buses and were promised like the rest of the school systems the buses would be delivered by September 1st. The buses had to be paid for on delivery but delays by the bus company delayed delivery until January."

In the Bond and short term funds, Thomas said there was $25,558.

"The school system hasn't anything to do with these funds, they are under the jurisdiction of the city. As a matter of fact the city has an interest payment of $13,000 due which will come out of these funds in September. The bonds in the amount of $50,000 plus interest are again due in March. Of course money will be added to the account from taxes collected in January, etc.," Thomas allowed.

Non-budgeted funds are also included in the checking amounts, according to the auditor.

"A total of $14,809 was in the lun-

J.D. (Big John) Rutherford has announced he will run for his third term as chancery clerk with Henry Otis seeking his second complete term as circuit clerk.

Otis, in his seventh year as circuit clerk, was elected in a special election to fill the vacancy created by the death of his father Lamar Otis.

Murtagh was elected last year in a special election with the resignation of veteran office holder George Heilmann because of failing health.

Friday is World Day of Prayer

The fifth annual community-wide World Day of Prayer will be conducted at 10 a.m. Friday at the First Missionary Baptist Church at the intersection of Sycamore and Third Streets in Bay St. Louis.

Representatives from many churches in the area will be present and will participate in the program, Mrs. David McDonald, program coordinator said.

"The World Day of Prayer is an international observance of the first Friday in March each year," Mrs. McDonald said.

"The event was hosted in Bay St. Louis by the Main Street Methodist Church in 1975 and 1976, the Lutheran Church of the Pines in 1977, and in 1978 by Christ Episcopal Church," the coordinator added.

"The service is open to all, and is interdenominational and ecumenical," Mrs. McDonald continued.

"You may leave work, attend the event in working clothes, and return to work following the one-hour service," she said.

"Please plan to attend this inspirational service conducted on the day set aside for prayer around the world," Mrs. McDonald urged.

Save the Bay seeks halt on Dupont spur

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Save the Bay will seek a preliminary or temporary injunction March 8, at 9 a.m. in U.S. District Court in Jackson to halt construction of Dupont's 13.1 mile railroad spur until a permanent injunction hearing can be held.

The permanent injunction hearing will seek a permanent halt on construction of Dupont's railroad spur until an environmental impact statement is prepared including the secondary impacts the railroad will have, reports Robert Smith, an attorney representing the environmental group.

Smith contends the spur will induce development by industry of 20,000 acres surrounding the short railroad track.

The hearing on a motion for the preliminary injunction will be before Judge William Harold Cox.

Smith says the Harrison County Development Commission is encouraging heavy industry to locate and develop in the area of the railroad spur.

"We're trying to stop the induced industrial development in that area," emphasizes Smith.

Board proceeds with caution

By LESLIE WILLIAMS
Advancement on the Bayou Cadet project, which will provide a boat docking area in Hancock County, is being cautiously undertaken by County Board of Supervisors.

"Acquiring land for the spoils area and the moorage basin is the stage the project is at now," Board President Alton Kellar said Tuesday.

"There are still a lot of things that have to be worked out regarding the project," continued Kellar, "what we're trying to do is take it one step at a time."

Project cost is estimated at a minimum of $445,500 and a maximum of $750,000.

This includes acquisition of the land for the 18 acre mooring basin and spoil area, construction of roads, and other associated construction.

McCullough urges voter participation Saturday

By RICH ADAMS
Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School Superintendent J.D. McCullough Wednesday urged all qualified voters to turn out and vote in Saturday's election for a new school board member.

The election of a member to fill the unexpired one-year term of former Board Member Jean Townsend will be conducted at Bay Senior High School on Blue Meadow Road in Bay St. Louis Saturday between the hours of 9-5 p.m.

"I would urge all voters from Waveland and all citizens outside the corporate limits of Bay St. Louis who belong to the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District to vote," McCullough said Wednesday.

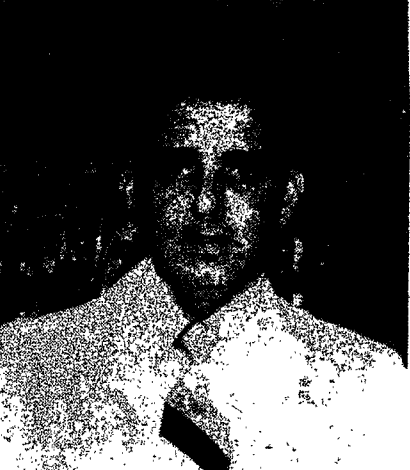

"I urge all eligible voters to vote because of the importance of the election," he added.

Candidates in the election are Betty Diboll and Linda Penrose.

The winner of the election will fill the unexpired slot of Ms. Townsend, who relocated to Washington state prior to expiration of her term.

Dr. John Levens has been filling the position on an interim basis since Ms. Townsend departed.

Another election for a six-year term on the school board will be conducted in March 1980, after the remainder of Ms. Townsend's term expires.

Joe Dobson seeks office of sheriff

A native of Hancock County, Dobson graduated from Carriere High School and attended Louisiana State University two years. He served in the United States Air Force for five years.

Dobson and his wife Bobbie reside in Bay St. Louis. They have one son age three, and one daughter age five.

chrom fund," McCullough stated.

"We start buying in August for school opening and do not receive any reimbursement from the state on lunches until October, and we have to have operating capital," he continued.

"The student activity fund amount of $15,494 includes a lot of activities using money, such as, football, equipment, transportation for athletic functions, game official salaries, band events, choral programs, dues to all athletic associations and even coaching clinics, among other things," McCullough remarked.

"In the summer school payroll fund there was $363. These were paid to the teachers for the summer school term," McCullough commented.

In commenting about previous years McCullough added, "It is only during the past couple of years we haven't had to borrow monies to start the school year on advanced tax collections and pay interest. We also used to have to receive the Homestead exemption monies from the state early as opposed to the regular time of September in order to operate, we do not have to do this now."

Thomas allowed, "Our firm recommended the school system invent funds during the months of January, February and March, when the heavy taxes come in and they are now using such a procedure."

"State money comes in once a month for cafeteria reimbursement, and the city issues funds each month. Title I and Title IV funds come in several times a year," McCullough added.

In talking about the State project monies received by the school system, McCullough commented, "The State sends monies as progress moves and holds 10 percent until it is finished and inspected."

McCullough, to further state his point about not being able to intermingle funds, produced a check to the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School system in the amount of $51,134, received Wednesday morning from the State of Mississippi on the Bay Junior High Ceiling Repairs.

An attachment on the disbursement stated:

"TO THE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT ADDRESSED:

Enclosed herewith you will find a State warrant representing 60 percent payment on the above referenced project. An account must be set up in the depository just as the name appears on the face of the requisition and no other funds, local or otherwise, can be commingled with the funds of this project."

Bay St. Louis City Finance Officer, Kelly McQueen, reported, "The school system operates on a 30 mill taxation. Of these, 25 mills go to the school for operations and five mills are held by the city for payment of Bonds and short term notes."

"We issue money to the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School System monthly. The only time the system may have an excess is in the early part of the year when taxes come in heavy because the money from the City is issued over the year," McQueen emphasized.

"The city is now using the idle funds which are available in short term investments, but we have to be careful of where we use them because regulations are very particular," McQueen allowed.

"The $72 earned in interest reported by the auditors report was invested by the former finance accountant. We anticipate earnings approximately $1,000 this year on the Bonds and loans monies," McQueen said.

"One of the reasons we do not earn more is because in March we pay a total of $101,000 in Bonds and loans for the school district. We also have additional Bonds and loans and interest due in April and May," McQueen noted.

"Realistically," affirmed Smith, "I do think we will get the preliminary injunction."

A spokesman for the Dupont plant in Delisle, one of the defendants named in the case, feels quite differently.

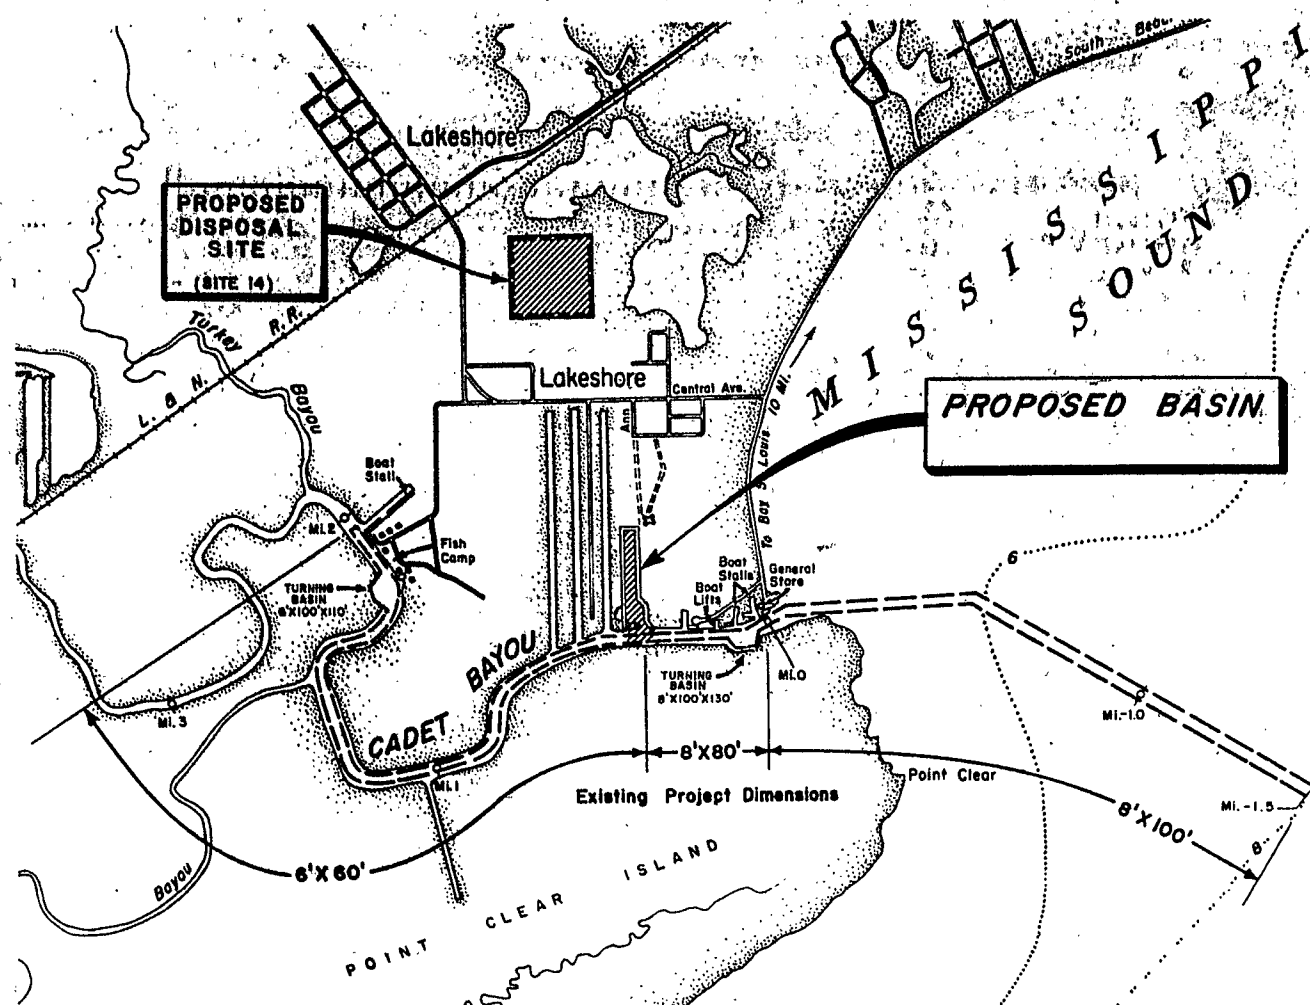

Larry Kniffen, the plant's assistant manager, said, "I don't think Save the Bay has good enough grounds to be granted an injunction."

Construction on the railroad is 60 percent complete and should be completed in May or June, Kniffen added.

Some defendants named in the case include Harrison County Development Commission, Harrison County Board of Supervisors, Dupont, Southern Mississippi Transportation Committee, U.S. Corps of Engineers, Interstate Commerce Commission and the U.S. Coast Guard.

"Even if I don't get the injunction facing the railroad," declared Smith, "I hope that what we're doing will wake up some people to the fact that we need comprehensive land use planning."

"I would like to see the Gulf Coast Regional Planning Commission in charge of this planning," Smith added.

Port and Harbor Commission Director Wilson Webre said the question unanswered at this time regarding the anchorage basin is, "Where is the county going to get the funds to finance the project?"

Kellar said he doesn't really know where the funds are going to come from, but the county is presently working on alternatives to acquire funds, one of which is Coastal Energy Impact Program funds.

Webre said the project's spoils site will probably be north of the basin near the Gulfview Subdivision (site 14), and St. Ann Street will probably be the access road to the docking facility.

"Actually," said Webre, "the Cadet project is an expansion of the Bayou Cadet Marina constructed some 10 years ago."

The basin will be 250 to 350 feet wide and 12,000 feet long, and the bayou will be used as an entrance to the site.

Webre explained the purpose of the project is to aid county fishermen and eventually increase production by the fishermen.

Webre listed several benefits the basin will provide to fishermen.

"The mooring basin will provide speedy exit in and out of the bayou. This saves time—and time is money," the director elaborated.

"There is presently a limitation of docking space and fishermen have to tie their boats together, thus if a fisherman wants to go out he can't because he has to wait for other fisherman before he can free his boat," said Webre.

"In addition to everything else," Webre intoned, "fishermen are presently docking their boats in a situation which causes a safety hazard."

He added, "The basin should also remove the congestion from the bayou and allow for the orderly birthing of boats. Everyone knows the fishermen have constantly complained they have no place to birth their boats."

Mississippi Power begins Third Party

Under a Third Party Notification Plan which Mississippi Power Company begins on March 1, a residential customer may designate a third party—such as a relative, friend or social agency—to receive any disconnect notices he might receive for nonpayment of an electrical service account.

The purpose of this plan, according to Local Manager Perry Gibson, is to help reduce the possibility of a customer's electric service being disconnected because the customer misplaced the notice, did not receive it, or did not understand its implication.

"We especially recommend that seriously ill or elderly customers use the new Third Party Notification Plan. Also, those who travel frequently and may miss receiving a notice that electric service will be disconnected if a bill is not paid by a certain date will find the new plan very helpful," he explained.

Under the Third Party Notification Plan, a duplicate of the disconnect notice is sent to the designated third party.

This does not place any obligation on the third party to pay for another person's electric service, nor will it defer or prevent disconnection of electric service if payment is not made.

"The notification plan serves as an additional communications link between Mississippi Power Company and the individual customer," Gibson emphasized.

Interested persons may request participation in the Third Party Notification Plan by filling out a form which is included in electric bills mailed during March. Forms are also available at all Mississippi Power Company offices.

The Third Party Notification procedure will remain in effect as long as the account at the current address is active or until the customer requests that it be discontinued.

DuPont presents $4,000 check to MSU

The DuPont Company Tuesday presented a check for $4,000 to officials of Mississippi State University as part of the corporation's annual educational aid grants program.

The presentation was made at DuPont's new titanium dioxide manufacturing plant under construction here. Dr. C.T. Carley, head of Mississippi State's Mechanical Engineering Department, accepted the check at the plant.

During 1978, DuPont made educational aid grants totaling $3.8 million for 170 colleges and universities. The bulk of the aid - more than $2.4 million - was made up of departmental discretionary grants to support science and engineering research and teaching in colleges and universities.

Last year DuPont made a grant of $3,500 to Mississippi State.

DuPont's aid-to-education program dates from 1918. To date, total grants have exceeded $60 million.

USM recongizes two Bay students

A day of recognition for 71 high school scholars representing four states was held recently at the University of Southern Mississippi.

David Bosley and Alane Carlson of Bay St. Louis were among those who received recognition from the university.

Senior Recognition Day is hosted each year by the USM Office of High School and Junior College Relations and is designed to recruit top high school students to USM.

The students attending scored 28 or above on the American College Test (ACT) and listed USM as one of three universities as their choices for a college education.

"We are in competition with other outstanding universities in the Southeast," said Elisabeth Jonas, USM High School and Junior College Relations counselor.

"Recognition Day presents opportunities for outstanding students to visit our campus and meet with the USM administrators, faculty members and students."

While guests at USM the students completed a written examination and were interviewed by members of the USM Honors College faculty.

The USM Honors College is one of seven in the U.S. and has a separate academic program designed for the exceptional students.

"Over 80 percent of our students go on to law, medical or graduate schools," said Wallace Kay, Dean of the USM Honors College.

"Our recruiting efforts at USM have been significant in attracting high school scholars to our campus. Our honors students contribute significantly to the intellectual and social aspects at USM."

"During our interviews with all 71 of the outstanding students we were impressed with their academic backgrounds and the potential contributions each could make to our University," Kay said.

Other high school students from the Gulf Coast area attending Senior Recognition Day at USM were: Paul Graham from Biloxi; Diana Collins from Gautier; William Gaston, Mark Ortiz and Melissa Thomas from Gulfport; and Susan LaRoche, Peter O'Brien, Karen Schuttmann, Kathy Schuttmann and Ruth Wilz from Long Beach.

Get out and vote Saturday!

A very important election will be held Saturday for only three hours to elect a member to the Bay St. Louis Separate Municipal School Board.

The election is open to the registered voters living in Waveland and all citizens living outside of the corporate limits of Bay St. Louis and belonging to the Bay St. Louis School district.

We know some of you will say it is just a school board election. Well, that may be true, but we would like to pass on to you something which we think is very important.

The person you elect for school board member will be responsible for more money spent in one year than any other elected official in either of the municipalities of Bay St. Louis and Waveland.

More monies are spent on the operation of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School system than is required to run either the city of Bay St. Louis or Waveland.

There are five school board members, three from Bay St. Louis and two from Waveland.

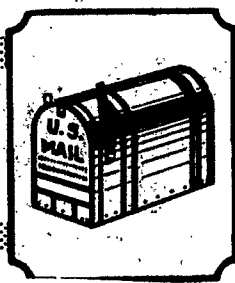

Bay St. Louis has a mayor and five councilmen. Waveland has a mayor and four aldermen.

So if you divide up the monies, you can see just how important a position of school board member is and the need for you to get out and vote on Saturday, March 3, 1979.

The voting will take place at the Bay Senior High on Blue Meadow Road from 2 to 5 p.m.

School money
needs to work

To the Editor
Sea Coast Echo

Dear Sir:

Thanks to the news media, the taxpayers of this community are finally getting a true picture of how our tax dollars are spent in the public schools.

Through recent coverage by the media, we have learned of alleged thefts in the system, pilferage in the cafeteria, and the lack of accountability and communication on the part of the School Board of Trustees and administration.

The most recent news is that we are losing many of dollars because the school system's funds (our tax dollars) are not drawing interest. With a budget of over $2.4 million the Bay St. Louis School System earned only $72 dollars interest because school funds are not invested in interest bearing accounts.

Such alleged carelessness almost amounts to misfeasance in office on the part of the Superintendent, who is the Treasurer of the School System and the Trustees, all of whom handle public funds.

It is the quality of our children's education which is at stake. Just think how much could be done for our children if the funds issued to our school officials were handled wisely and with the best interest of education in mind.

It is not too late for us to talk to our School Trustees and tell them that we want the most from our tax dollars. None of our tax dollars should sit idle. Our money should be put to work for our children. Remember, idleness is the devil's workshop!

Sincerely,
Carmella Boyd

Letter to Editor:

As you know the Waveland Civic Association sponsors and staffs a Muscular Dystrophy Association "Pledge Center" at the Waveland City Hall over the Labor Day Weekend in support of the national television telethon.

Over the past Labor Day weekend we received pledges and cash contributions amounting to $9,200.24. Recently we mailed to the Regional M.D.A. office a check for $1,154.12, which is included in the above total, but were delayed in reaching us for various reasons.

Last week we received the following from Ms. Beth Ramsey, District Director:

"Waveland Civic Association,
"Dear Friends:
"I was thrilled to receive your check for $1,154.12. What is our goal for this year? $115,000.
"Let it be said that the Waveland Civic Association always does things in a large way. Your generosity in the last few years is going a long way to help 'Jerry's kids'."

"This year we have seen some hope in our research. With the continued support of people like you, our job is much easier.
"Thank you for your invitation to the St. Patrick's Day Parade. I regret that I will be unable to attend.
"Once again, thank you on behalf of all 'Jerry's Kids.' Your help is their hope."

Thanks,
Sincerely,

Dr. Chevis earns special family practice degree

Dr. Sidney Chevis, Bay Saint Louis, has been named a diplomate of the American Board of Family Practice (ABFP) as a result of passing a certification examination offered by the ABFP. He is now certified in the medical specialty of family practice.

Chevis has been practicing medicine in Bay St. Louis at his Dunbar Avenue office for eight years.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Chevis Sr. of Bay St. Louis, the doctor is a 1963 graduate of St. Stanislaus and attended college at the University of Mississippi and the Medical Center in Jackson.

He is married to the former Mary D. Murtagh of Bay St. Louis and has three children, Karen, 10, Billy, 6, and Patty, 3.

The intensive 2-day written examination is designed to prove the candidate's ability in the areas of internal medicine, surgery, obstetrics, gynecology, pediatrics, psychiatry and community medicine.

To qualify for the examination a physician must have completed either a 3-year family practice residency or have been in family practice a minimum of six years and successfully completed 300 hours of continuing medical education approved by the American Academy of Family Physicians.

ABFP diplomates must also continue to show proof of competence in the field of comprehensive, continuing care of the family by being recertified every six years. No other medical specialty requires diplomates to prove competence of a continuing basis.

The latest group of diplomates brings the total number to more than 19,000. Most are members of the Academy of Family Physicians, the national association of family doctors.

The Academy was the first national M.D. group to require members to take continuing medical study and was chiefly responsible for securing specialty status for family practice. This year is the tenth anniversary of the specialty.

Pass man dies in mishap

By RICH ADAMS

A Pass Christian man was killed and four Bay St. Louis residents were injured Sunday in a collision on US-90 west of Pass Christian.

According to the Mississippi State Highway Patrol, John R. Hoffman, 68, 154 Fort Henry Ave. in Pass Christian, was killed after he reportedly pulled his car onto the highway from a side street into the path of a pickup truck driven by Raymond L. Richardson, 49, 207 Main St., Bay St. Louis.

Michelle Hoffman, 12, and Christopher Hoffman, 10, both passengers in the Hoffman car, were injured in the accident.

Norma Richardson, 11, a passenger in the pickup truck, was also injured. Martha C. Mallini, 66, 515 Third St., Pass Christian, a passenger in the Richardson car, was reported as being uninjured.

The injured were transported to Gulfport Memorial Hospital by Mobile Medic for treatment.

According to a spokesman at Gulfport Memorial Hospital, the Hoffman children suffered head injuries and the girl received a fractured pelvis.

Both children are listed in good condition, the spokesman reported.

Both Raymond and Norma Richardson were transferred to Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi for treatment.

According to a spokesman at Keesler, Raymond Richardson was listed in good condition. No report on the youth was available.

Highway Patrolman R.J. Thompson is investigating officer in the mishap.

COUNT CALORIES TO LOSE EXTRA POUNDS
Calories Do Count

Counting calories is a favorite pastime among those of us who want to lose weight.

But how many of us know exactly what is a calorie?

The term "calorie" is used as a unit in expressing the energy-producing value of food. When we say that a tablespoon of honey contains about 65 calories, it means that the honey, when utilized by the tissues of the body, will release that amount of energy to be expended in bodily activity.

The American Medical Association points out that the usual weight-reduction goal of one or two pounds per week is achieved by a daily intake of 500 to 1,000 calories less than the intake needed to maintain the weight at which reducing was begun.

Caloric needs are an individual affair, and your diet should be worked out in consultation with your physician. He can help you arrive at a reasonable figure, permitting you to lose weight steadily and gradually, and at the same time maintain good health and not go hungry.

Caloric charts will help guide you in determining what you can eat, and in what quantity, to maintain your desired daily intake. Some diet specialists recommend five to six small meals a day, rather than two or three large ones.

Keep in mind the nutrient values of foods selected. When total food intake is restricted, it is important to choose those foods that will provide optimal nutritional value with a minimum amount of calories.

"Caloric tables can be useful, they should not be the sole basis for selecting foods."

Whatever program your physician prescribes for you, there is one important thing to remember—calories do count. To lose weight, we must spend more energy than we take in.

Cave-in calls for Bay council meeting

By ELLIS CUEVAS

Bay St. Louis Mayor Larry Bennett is scheduled to call a special meeting of the Bay City Council at 4:30 p.m. today for the consideration of bids for the emergency repair of the Carroll Avenue cave-in.

A special meeting was called Monday evening, but the Council was unable to act because of a lack of a quorum. The only Council members showing for the special meeting Monday were Councilmen James Thrifflay and Pete Benvenuti in addition to Mayor Bennett.

Initial repair work on the cave-in in the 400 block of Carroll was halted last week by the mayor. The job was being done by a local contractor which Mayor Bennett preferred not to name.

"The gentleman started the job and dug a 14-foot hole and began losing the street and almost the water main and possibly the gas line. The manhole may have even been lost because of the cave-ins. With all of the rain, he should have well-pointed before digging," commented Mayor Bennett.

At the council's request, Joe Brown, of the firm of Joe Brown Engineers, Inc. of Gulfport received emergency bids for the repair of the cave-in.

The city originally was going to do the work on an equipment rental basis per hour, on bids received for a six month period at the first of the year before the contractor was relieved by the mayor.

Council president Thrifflay, in talking on tax matters, said he was pleased with the recent House and Senate approval of the half-cent sales tax for the city to pay off a federal court judgment of a diving accident from a city pier which resulted in the death of New Orleans teenager Jimmy Ray Warner III.

The judgment is being appealed and the sales tax measure is a precaution in case the city loses the appeal.

Thrifflay said the other solution would have been a special five mill tax levy which would have lasted about eight years and even affected residents over 65.

The people over 65 would have had to pay the levy if it put their property over the $5,000 home tax exemption, he added.

The half-cent sales tax would last about two and one half years based on current sales tax figures, according to Thrifflay. The tax increase would be only on items on which the usual five percent sales tax is charged.

Microfilm services available at Library

By JOE PILET

A relatively new dimension has been added in services provided by the City-County Public Library in Bay St. Louis.

A microfilm reader is available and some county, city and newspaper microfilms are on file. Films from the county include such information as marriage records, Hancock County letters of administration, guardianship, executorship and testamentary, as well as will records, a register of physicians from 1882 to 1949, and naturalization records from 1856-1940. A Hancock County Deed Index is also available where deeds from 1853-1886 are filed.

Thirteen volumes of old Bay St. Louis city minute books have also been microfilmed and filed at the Library, and there are some twenty-four spools of film taken from old Sea Coast Echo records.

All of this material is available to the public, however, because of the limitations of facility it is advisable to call the library and make an appointment to use the equipment. June Dearman cheerfully assists patrons who wish instructions in operating the equipment.

There is a copy attachment where for a small charge of ten cents per sheet a patron may avail himself with a page duplicate. These duplicates are not intended as permanent records and tend to fade. It is suggested to those wishing a durable copy to use the library's duplicating machine. The charge for this service is only 10 cents per copy.

A fine modern microfilm cabinet stores all microfilms and is kept locked for protection of these documents.

There are, however, no restrictions on the use of County and newspaper microfilms.

Although the microfilm service is relatively new for the City-County Public Library, Ms. Dearman said it is very popular with persons seeking to establish heritage records.

LOTT ENDORSES BILL
AID SMALL BUSINESS

U.S. Congressman Trent Lott, R-Miss., has joined in sponsoring legislation designed to reduce federal burdens on small business.

The bill, the Small Business Tax Relief Act of 1979, was introduced in the 96th Congress last month by Congressman Richard T. Schulze, R-Pa. It attracted more than 100 cosponsors in the 95th Congress last year, highlighting the need for small business tax reform.

"Provisions of this legislation would implement some much-needed relief from the heavy federal burdens on small businesses," Lott said. "Federal tax policy is crucial to the success or failure of a new business enterprise or an existing one, and steps are needed not to bolster their ability to survive."

Major provisions of the bill include the following:

—permit a small businessman to sell his business and reinvest the profit in another small business within 18 months without paying tax; —increase the amount of additional first-year depreciation which may be deducted from $10,000 to $25,000;

—rapid amortization (over 36 months) of certain changes or improvements to plant and equipment under which are required by federal law or regulations; and —granting of a $5 tax credit for each form or document a small business is required to file under federal law.

"Small businesses have been under fire from the federal government for far too long," Lott said. "By helping to make it more reasonable for them to operate, we are helping to insure the viability of our economy."

Pass parade crowd
'larger than ever'

By RICH ADAMS

St. Paul's Mardi Gras Parade in Pass Christian drew "a larger crowd than ever before," Sunday as 94 registered entries marched through the city before some 7,500 spectators, according to Pass Christian Fire Chief and Parade Marshal George Mixon.

"On Davis Avenue there were people on both sides of the road at least 10 people deep," Mixon said.

"It was a larger crowd than ever before. I'm just taking a wild guess, but I'd say there were 7,500 people at the parade," he added.

"Normally we have about 5,000 spectators," the fire chief said. Mixon said in general the parade was "a very good parade," adding that no major problems were encountered despite the large turnout.

"The crowd was well behaved...the only real problem we had was with the horses in the parade," Mixon said.

"We had about 10 horses registered, and some 40 horses showed up...we started them off at the end of the parade, and by the time they reached the finish point, two-thirds of the horses were 10 or 15 floats ahead of where they started. It was mainly a safety problem," he added.

Mixon said he believes the large amount of parade watchers was a result of the cancellation of Mardi Gras parades in New Orleans due to the police strike.

"We don't really compete, but we run our parade the same day Bacchus does in New Orleans," Mixon said.

"People who normally leave the Coast to go to New Orleans stayed here and added to the crowd," he continued.

"Sunday there was no break in the crowd from Davis Avenue to the end of the parade. There were a lot of people from different states at the event, and a large number of vans and campers on the side of the road," he added.

"The parade was really great this year...we had no problems," the chief said.

Father Bracken named to head "Wheels For Life"

Father Walter Bracken of Divine Word Seminary in Bay St. Louis has been named to head Clermont Harbor's 1979 "Wheels For Life Bike-A-Thon" for St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital, Southern Region Director Bob Epsey said.

"We are proud to find such a dedicated person for this important task. St. Jude's Hospital offers hope to stricken children everywhere that would not be possible without such volunteers," Epsey said.

During the coming weeks, riders in the April 7 St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital Wheels For Life Bike-A-Thon will be asking Hancock County citizens to back their efforts by pledging a contribution for each mile they ride.

Wheels-For-Life Chairman Claudia Singleton, Bay St. Louis, said the sponsors will be asked for their contribution only when the ride is complete and the rider's distance verified.

"Each rider will be given a lap card when they register at Gulfview Elementary School on April 7," Ms. Singleton said.

"Every time they ride through the check points, we will initial the card. At the end of the ride, we will check it and sign it to show that the rider has earned what the sponsor pledged," she continued.

"Riders will then return to the sponsors to collect the pledge. The money our riders earn will help continue St. Jude's life-saving research that has become so important to children all over the world," the chairman said.

"We will be showing that we care about children by helping this cause. Please support your rider with a generous pledge, and then help them get the funds to us after the ride is over," Ms. Singleton added.

Ms. Singleton recently announced the name of key volunteers for the April 7 event.

Winnie Carver has been named as rider recruiter and follow up chairman. Ms. Carver said trophies will be awarded for the three top money raisers in the bike-a-thon.

1978 Chairman Ruth Auxilen will be assistant to the chairman this year. Cindy Musser will handle refreshments.

"Our committee people are giving their time and talent to help in the fight against cancer and other catastrophic childhood diseases," Ms. Singleton said.

"With volunteers like these, our ride has to be a great success," she added. Since opening in 1962, this research center has become the leader in developing new treatment procedures to save children stricken by catastrophic diseases, Ms. Singleton said.

Riders may pick up sponsor and registration forms at Gulfview Elementary School, Hancock North Central, Kent and Sue's Quick Stop in Lakeshore, and Waveland Elementary School.

These registration cards may be obtained by phoning 467-7401.

A dance at Gulfview Elementary School gymnasium will take place March 3 at 7:30 p.m. to raise money for a bicycle to be presented to the child who raises the most money for St. Jude's.

Additional helpers in the April 7 event are Faye Lusich, Doris Richard, Irene Richie, Glenda Chaisson, Janice Bourgeois, Shirley Schubert, Dot Newbig, Christian Newbig, Bill Musser, and Kelly Schwartz.

SCORE, SBA sponsor workshop

The Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE) and the U.S. Small Business Administration will co-sponsor a workshop for owners and managers of small business and other interested persons. The workshop, entitled "Managing to Sell," will emphasize various points on how to insure the success of your sales efforts.

Registration for this seminar to be conducted Wednesday, March 14, 1979, from 1:00 p.m. until 4:30 p.m., at the Sheraton-Biloxi Motor Inn must be made in advance.

Anyone desiring information concerning registration please contact the Management Assistance Division of the U.S. Small Business Administration, Biloxi Branch Office, Gulf National Life Insurance Building, Biloxi, MS, telephone 435-3676.

Seals to address Cancer Society

The American Cancer Society, Mississippi Division, will host a day-long meeting on Friday, March 2, to launch its 1979 Education and Fund-Raising Crusade. It has been necessary to change the meeting place from that originally announced, to the Holiday Inn Southwest, Highway 80 West, Jackson.

Roger Kuyrkendall, Crusade Committee Chairman, announced that ACS volunteers from across the state will convene in Jackson on that date to discuss plans for raising $700,000 in the April Crusade to support the American Cancer Society's three-prong programs of Research, Education, and Service-Rehabilitation.

"You Do Make A Difference," the 1979 Crusade theme, will be carried out throughout the day to demonstrate the important role each Volunteer makes to the overall Fight Against Cancer.

The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. and conclude with a dinner at 7 p.m. "Progress in Cancer Research" will be discussed during the morning program by Glen Gentry, Ph.D., Jackson, who is currently the recipient of a research grant from the American Society.

A panel, comprised of Francis S. Morrison, M.D., Division Executive Committee Chairman; Jeanette Pullen, M.D., Division President; and James C. Griffin, M.D., a Jackson surgeon, will discuss questions posed to them concerning basic medical opinion about the disease of cancer.

Mrs. Nancy Isaacson, a member of the Division Public Information Committee, will moderate this panel, and will later speak on "Volunteer Recruitment".

"Now Possibilities," will be presented by Mrs. Marjorie Rowden, Chairman of the Board of Directors. Her presentation will include a discussion on how funds are raised and utilized to the best possible advantage to further the work of the American Cancer Society.

William Winter, Chairman of the Division's Public Information Committee, will discuss how to effectively inform the public about the work of the American Cancer Society.

Leo Seal, Jr., of Bay St. Louis 1979 State Crusade Chairman, will conclude the morning session with a charge to the volunteers for total commitment in reaching and exceeding the 1979 Crusade goal.

Afternoon session will be devoted to volunteer training needs. A social hour and banquet will climax the day's activities.

At the banquet, those in attendance will be inspired by case history presentations of two cured cancer patients, and will have the opportunity to meet them.

Potential volunteers and other persons interested in the American Cancer Society are welcome to attend the meeting.

Bay resident wins Voice of Democracy contest

Susan Hensley, 17, a former student of Christ Episcopal Day School and Our Lady's Academy in Bay St. Louis, has been named the overseas area winner of the 32nd annual Voice of Democracy broadcast script writing contest sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Miss Hensley is presently a junior at Kwajalein High School, where she is junior class president, a member of the National Honor Society, French Club and Ekatah yearbook staff.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Hensley, formerly living on Felicite Street in Bay St. Louis.

Approximately 500,000 contestants participated in the contest. The overseas area includes the Pacific, Europe, Asia...wherever Americans are living overseas.

Miss Hensley will represent Kwajalein High School in Washington, D.C., where a tape of her script will be judged with those of other finalists representing each of the 50 states and the District of Columbia.

Columbia. First place award in the finals is a $10,000 scholarship. A panel of judges from Ft. Kono: Toastmasters selected Miss Hensley as first place winner from 12 contestants in the Kwajalein contest, sponsored by VFW Post 10268 in November.

"To be one of the top 52 from a field of over 500,000 is certainly an outstanding achievement," said Voice of Democracy Director Lawrence LeFebvre.

Area students attend Presidential Classroom

Two area students have been selected and are presently participating along with 400 other students as members of the Presidential Classroom in Washington, D.C.

Peter Bernheim, a senior at St. Stanislaus in Bay St. Louis and Clark M. Shull of Pass Christian will be attending the events at the nation's capitol until March 3.

Bernheim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P.G. Bernheim, 890 Second Street, Gulfport, Mississippi.

He is an honor student in his sixth year at St. Stanislaus and vice-president of the National Honor Society. He represented St. Stanislaus at the State Science and Math Tournament, and he is on the President's Honor Roll.

Shull is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Shull of Pass Christian. He is an honor student, President of the Beta Club and a member of the Annual Staff.

He was named to Who's Who Among American High School Students and the Society of Distinguished American High School Students.

A member of the band, Clark recently received a superior rating at Sole and Ensemble. He also received the 10 lb. Hershey Award in the 10th grade.

During the intensive one-week program, the two will join other outstanding high school students from across the nation and overseas in meeting with government leaders and Washington observers.

Students attend formal seminars at which national decision-makers representing a wide range of political ideologies discuss the various operations and responsibilities of the Federal government.

Each seminar is followed by a question and answer period in which the students are free to personally explore the speaker's topic of discussion.

Several of the seminars are on-site briefings at Federal agencies and on Capitol Hill.

PETER BERNHEIM

The curriculum focuses upon the nature of the Federal institutions and decision-making processes that, combined with political power, are responsible for our national public policies.

The goal of the Program is to foster leadership potential and civic responsibility among student leaders by exposing them to the dynamics of our democratic system at its nucleus - Washington D.C.

Chartered in 1968 as a non-profit, educational program,

Presidential Classroom has provided more than 15,000 young people with firsthand exposure to prominent government leaders and key observers of the Washington scene.

Among past speakers have been Senators, Representatives, Justices of the Supreme Court, Cabinet Secretaries, members of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, foreign ambassadors, White House staff, news media personnel and high-level executives from many different Federal Agencies and the private sector.

Complementing the formal learning experience of the Program is the opportunity for students to explore the geographic, cultural and socio-economic diversity of their peers in the National Student Body. Sharing a common interest in leadership and government, the students represented a wide spectrum of American society and provided one another with valuable perspectives on our national diversity.

Artist included in

USM Oral History

Richard Williams, accomplished painter and painter, was recently included in the University of Southern Mississippi Oral History collection.

During formal ceremonies, Williams presented an original painting to the university along with a bound volume of a transcribed interview conducted by USM Oral History Director, Dr. Orley Caudill.

The USM Oral History program preserves on audio tape the memories, perceptions and observations of prestigious personalities concerning historical events.

According to Caudill, Williams' tapes and the manuscript reflecting the tapes will join the 680 hours of interviews previously collected by the program in the archives of the W. D. McCain Graduate Library at USM.

During the ceremonies at USM, excerpts from the taped interview with Williams were played to an appreciative audience.

On tape, the Biloxi native talked about his family life during the 1930's and '40's, the methods of shrimp processing employed during his youth and his early artistic involvement constructing model airplanes as a sign shop painter in north Biloxi. The painting presented to the university by Williams featured a favorite subject of the artist. Three "White Winged Queens," a sailing vessel used in gulf waters during the late 18th century, are presented in a lyrical setting of threatening sky and rough seas.

"The boats were used in the seafood industry along the coast because of their ability to navigate in shallow water. I have done a great deal of meticulous research to recreate them in my work," explained Williams.

Williams also demonstrated his painting techniques to the audience. Starting with a rough outlined sketch, he developed a painting of flowers and foliage within 45 minutes.

Although the painting was not finished, he adequately demonstrated the techniques which have made him famous.

The artist and his wife now live in Fort Walton Beach, Fla. where he is employed as an illustrator for the U.S. Air Force.

An exhibit of Williams work will hang in the lobby of the C. W. Woods art gallery on the USM campus until Mar. 2. The gallery is open weekdays and is free of charge.

ETV 'Festival 79' preview slated

A special half-hour preview program highlighting specials that Mississippi ETV viewers can expect to see during Festival '79 will air at three different times prior to, and on the beginning day of, Festival '79.

Festival '79 is a special two weeks of programming, beginning March 3, designed to increase awareness of public television.

The special preview "reel" can be seen at 7:30 a.m. and 9:30 p.m., today, and 8 p.m., Saturday, March 3, on the Mississippi ETV Network.

Among the special acquisitions for Festival '79 that viewers may get a glimpse of during the preview is "Live from the Grand Ole Opry," to be seen in two different performances: at 6 p.m. and 9:30 p.m., Saturday, March 3.

Because the special program is broadcast live from Nashville, scenes from last year's highly successful broadcast are shown during the preview. Also because performers for Grand Ole Opry shows are never scheduled sooner than 48 hours prior to curtain, the roster of entertainers is now known.

However, several notable have indicated that they are interested in participating. Among them are Minnie Pearl, Roy Acuff, Jerry Clower and Hank Snow.

The next National Geographic Special tells a touching story of refugee elephants of Kenya on "Last Stand in Eden" at 7 p.m., Sunday, March 4.

"Great Performances" presents the New York City Ballet with new choreography by George Balanchine at 7 p.m., Wednesday, March 7. Three Englishmen let loose on the Thames in an unquestionable comedy of errors in "Three Men in a Boat" at 8:30 p.m., Wednesday, March 7.

Captain Jacques Cousteau is off again to solve a problem involving life beneath the surface of the ocean in another "Cousteau Odyssey" special:

"Time Bomb at Fifty Fathoms" at 9 p.m., Thursday, March 8.

Tom T. Hall and the Nashville Super Pickers are the headliners on "Austin City Limits" at 6 p.m., Saturday, March 10.

"The Great American Gospel Sound" is a dream come true for Tennessee Ernie Ford at 8 p.m., Saturday, March 10. Ford has always hoped for a television special devoted exclusively to gospel music, and now he has his chance.

Master classical guitarist Andres Segovia performs at the White House in "Segovia at the White House" at 7 p.m., Sunday, March 11.

The scandalous story of Lillie Langtry can be seen at 8 p.m., Sundays, beginning March 11.

Festival '79 celebrates the 100th anniversary of the birth of Albert Einstein with two documentaries: on the "Nova" series at 8 p.m., Tuesday, March 20, and on "Einstein's Universe" with Peter Ustinov at 8 p.m., Tuesday, March 13. Shakespeare's beloved tale of love and woe, "Romeo and Juliet," can be seen on "The Shakespeare Plays" at 7 p.m., Wednesday, March 14.

Three MGM Hollywood musicals have been secured for the Festival celebration. "High Society," starring Grace Kelly, Frank Sinatra and Bing Crosby, can be seen at 8 p.m., Friday, March 16.

"Singin' in the Rain," starring Gene Kelly, Cyd Charisse, Debbie Reynolds and Donald O'Connor, can be seen at 8:30 p.m., Saturday, March 17. And, "The Band Wagon," starring Fred Astaire and Cyd Charisse and directed by Vincent Minelli, can be seen at 9 p.m., Sunday, March 18.

A candid and quite frank profile of Arthur Fiedler can be seen at 7 p.m., Sunday, March 18. "Arthur Fiedler: Just Call Me Maestro" reveals a side of Fiedler that many of his fans may not know exists. In "The Edge of the Cold" at 8 p.m., Monday, March 19, Sir Edmund Hillary continues his examination of Macquarie Island.

Tony Bennett hosts "American Pop: The Great Singers" at 8 p.m., Saturday, March 24. This special features Ethel Merman, Chet Atkins, Sarah Vaughan and Billy Eckstine in concert, and Nat King Cole, Frank Sinatra, Bing Crosby, Peggy Lee and Judy Garland in film salutes.

"America at the Movies" presents scenes from the industry's great films at 8 p.m., Saturday, March 31.

Girl Scout cookies beign distributed

Girl Scouts are delivering cookies to neighborhood customers February 23 through March 10 throughout South Mississippi during their annual fund-raising endeavor which supports many facets of Girl Scouting in Gulf Pine Council.

A spokesman for the council has stated that in 1978, "The International Year of the Child," funds from the cookies will support maintenance and development of the 339 acre Camp Iti Kana, expansion of the "Worlds To Explore" programs for girls, training for adult volunteers, purchase of equipment for troops and their activities including special events and trips, and national opportunities for Girl Scouts.

Citizen-participation in purchasing cookies is an important and pleasurable way for "everyone to make it happen in Girl Scouting," the spokesman added.

In 1978 proceeds from the cookie sale paid for major repairs to the Olympic swimming pool at the camp, to the dining hall, cabin units, roads and other facilities; the cookie proceeds also provided expansion of programs in the "World of Today and Tomorrow," "The World of the Out-of-Doors," "The World of Arts," "The World of Well-Being" and "The World of People."

Five hundred forty nine adult volunteers were trained in workshops and special courses with materials and resources derived from cookie proceeds and United Way.

Gulf Pine two offices located in Hattiesburg and Gulfport provided direct service to the 31 Council Neighborhoods which served over 10,000 Girl Scouts during the year in the fifteen-county area.

through field executives and an administrative management team.

Troops use the funds derived from the sale for purchase of equipment for their camping or other use, special trips for educational and recreational purposes in Mississippi and to other states, or to sponsor community service projects.

Troop members took orders in their neighborhoods in January. The big job of delivering the cases of cookies to neighborhood chairmen is being assisted by both the Army National Guard and the Mississippi Air National Guard during the week of February 19-23.

Neighborhood customers will be receiving their orders after February 23rd and until March 10.

Additional sales are being promoted during this period. Cookies can still be obtained through the community leaders, neighborhood cookie chairmen, or through contacting the Council offices in Hattiesburg 582-0224 or Gulfport 896-4047.

The Hattiesburg office is located in the Southern building, Hardy Street; The Gulfport Office is located in the Executive Office Building, Courthouse Road. Both offices have cases of cookies to meet additional needs of each community.

Military Mention

ROGER E. DANIELS

Millsaps names local students to Dean's list

A total of 278 students were named to the Dean's List at Millsaps College for the 1978 fall semester. Students receiving the distinction are those who have earned at least a 3.2 grade point average in 12 or more semester hours of work.

Among those named to the list of scholars were Toni A. Franchiewick and Robert Lagarde of Bay St. Louis and David Handshoe of Waveland.

Vet population reaches 30 million mark

For the first time in history, the nation's veteran population has climbed above the 30 million mark. And J.L. Warnock, Center Director, VAMC-RO in Jackson, said today that the number is likely to keep climbing during at least the next few months before leveling off.

At the end of November, VA estimated the number of living veterans at 30,022,000. A year ago, the number was 29,879,000.

Warnock said the continuing increase is due to the fact that discharges from military service have been exceeding the number of deaths among veterans. The low death rate, in turn, is a reflection of the increased life expectancy in the past few years.

Warnock said the largest group of living veterans are those who served in World War II. These numbered 12,868,000 in November and their average age was just over 68 years.

In contrast, only 278 veterans of the Spanish American War remained alive in November; the survivors of the 392,000 participants in that conflict.

Vietnam Era veterans totaled 2,779,000. Warnock said, and next in numerical order are the 5,898,000 men and women who served during the Korean conflict.

Only 63,000 veterans of World War I are still alive out of the 4,440,000 soldiers, sailors and airmen who took part in that war to end all wars. Their average age now is 83.

UM student aid deadline today

Students who want financial aid to help pay college costs for the 1979-80 school year must meet fast-approaching deadlines, reminds Sidney Tate, director of financial aid at The University of Mississippi.

Today is the deadline for filing the Financial Aid Form (FAF) with the College Scholarship Service, said Tate.

The FAF is used by many colleges to establish eligibility for institution-based financial aid and basic grants. The form is available from high school and junior college guidance counselors, and from the Ole Miss Financial Aid Department.

Before filing the FAF, students must also submit an application for admission to the university of their choice, Tate said.

By April 1, students planning to attend Ole Miss should have completed a separate University financial aid application, he added.

Tate explained that students who file applications after the deadlines still will be considered for financial aid, although their applications will receive lower priority than those of students who apply on time.

Students who wish to apply only for the federal Basic Educational Opportunity Grant (BEOG) can apply by using the FAF at any time, Tate said.

A new federal law has increased the number of student who may be eligible for the basic grants, so that some 50 percent of next year's undergraduates at Ole Miss may qualify for the federal grants, compared with 17 percent of current undergraduates.

Tate said more than half of Ole Miss students now receive some form of financial aid, including grants, loans, employment and scholarships. Grants are a type of gift aid which do not have to be repaid, while loans must be repaid later, usually after graduation.

Two types of employment are available through the federally-funded College Work Study Program, part-time work on campus during the school year and full-time summer employment. The University also employs a number of students in part-time jobs.

For more information about financial aid contact Sidney Tate, Financial Aid Department, University of Mississippi, University, Miss. 38677.

Heart Association seeks volunteers

Volunteers are needed for the 1979 American Heart Association fund raising campaign. Mrs. David Treutel, Treasurer of the Hancock campaign has announced.

"The Heart Association needs volunteers during March to help fight America's number one killer," she said. Over half of all American deaths are due to heart and blood vessel diseases and there are more than 40 million Americans that have some form of cardiovascular disease.

"Volunteers can lend service by collecting contributions for research, education and community programs," says Mrs. Treutel. "They will also pass out information that can save lives."

The information handed out by volunteers lists the warning signals of heart attack and stroke, emergency action and information on the risk factors of heart disease.

To volunteer, Mrs. Treutel asks that you call 467-4613. "You can help in the fight for lives free of cardiovascular disease," Mrs. Treutel said.

Reading center schedules to open by summer

The Coast's first Reading Center could be open by summer, if all plans go according to schedule at the University of Southern Mississippi-Gulf Coast Regional Campus.

"Our physical facility has been renovated and we will be moving in equipment and supplies very soon," said Dr. Nancy Maszkal, director of the reading program at USM-Gulf Coast.

The facility will be designed for both teacher training and community service. Parents will have the opportunity to bring in for evaluation children suspected of having reading problems. As the program develops some tutoring will be scheduled.

In addition, the center will be used for practicum students in reading and elementary education.

The facility will function as a curriculum lab as well as a Reading Center.

NSTL scientists attend seminar

A scientific laboratory equipment exhibition was held at the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory in Ocean Springs on February 22. The Atlanta branch of Fisher Scientific, a laboratory supply company, sponsored the program and it was hosted by GCRL's Drs. Thomas and Julia Lytle.

The exhibit was attended by scientists from GCRL as well as researchers from the Naval Ocean R&D Activity of NSTL in Bay St. Louis, the Pascaboula Laboratory of the National Marine Fisheries Service (NOAA), members of the Biochemistry Section of Keesler Air Force Base in Biloxi and the Mississippi Crime Lab.

Jim Matteson, technical representative for Fisher Scientific, said this program enables researchers to actually see the equipment as well as talk with representatives of the manufacturer about their particular research.

About 15 companies from all over the United States participated in the exhibition. Topics for the five seminars were: the production of reagent grade water; pH for the analytical laboratory; maintenance and operation of your microscope; safety enclosures for hazardous materials; and a special two-hour workshop on membrane filtration.

The seminars were basic in content and allowed a special two-hour workshop on membrane filtration. The seminars were basic in content and allowed time for specific questions from researchers on the topics discussed.

WHY ARE WE SO BIG ON ASTOR-THRIFTY MAID BRANDS? DEEP SOUTH, CRACKIN' GOOD, ARROW, CHEK, LILAC, BLUE BAY

These "store-brand" items are those that we ourselves produce in our own plants, or strictly control their production in plants under contract to WINN-DIXIE. Products bearing our own labels are produced under rigid WINN-DIXIE standards for quality and wholesomeness. Because we produce them - or supervise their production - we can offer them at prices lower than you would pay for some other comparable brand. Just another example of how "You Can Feed Your Family For Less When You Shop At WINN-DIXIE".

Hawkettes capture State title

The Hancock North Central Hawkettes defeated New Hope in the State Class A Basketball finals in Jackson Saturday to capture the state title following three years of "second best" at the event.

The Hawkettes sank seven of 11 free throws in the final period to defeat the New Hope roundballers, 48-41.

Sheila and Shaynon Ladner netted 13 points apiece to lead the scoring and secure a spot on the all-state basketball team.

Shelly Dedeaux, scoring 10 points, was also named to the all-star squad. The HNC eagles went to the lockerroom with a 23-17, half-time lead behind the nine and eight point scoring of the Ladner sisters.

Hancock continued its onslaught in the third stanza, moving to a 41-23 advantage with less than four minutes remaining in the period.

New Hope went to the foul line 10 times in the following seven minutes of the game, but the subsequent eight points were not enough to overcome the Hawkettes.

The crown is HNC's first after falling short three years in a row during the finals. For HNC skipper Charlie Jacobs, the win was his third state title.

He coached a team to the Class B title in 1973 and won the Class BB championship last year, both wins at Hamilton.

"One thing you can say, I came up the ladder," Jacobs said.

"First the B, then the BB, and now the A," he added.

The girls now advance to the overall state championships, where they will play the winners of the other classes in the state.

PRJC back to fundamentals in spring training

It takes more than a pun, to make it as a Pearl River Junior College Cat.

"We want players that can think," said head football coach J.C. Arban. "A lot of athletes don't think football, they just do what they are told."

Arban stressed the three C's - cool, calm and collected - as he discussed the spring training efforts of his Pearl River Wildcats.

"So far, we've had real good enthusiasm and the boys have been working hard," said Arban. "Some may be short on ability and size but they make it up with determination and I suspect they'll get better."

Hard knocking scrimmages and fundamental teaching sessions have been the basic formats of the Wildcat workouts.

Football, like most competitive sports, is a game of fundamental reactions. The shoulder the linemen blocks with or the direction the running back steers can determine the outcome of a game.

"We're trying to teach the fundamentals and experiment with different players to see what they do best," said Arban. "The scrimmages will teach the boys how to react in real life situations. The more we scrimmage, the more we'll learn."

Many of the practice days have been rained out for PRC, along with a few called-off practices due to the South Division Basketball Tournament, held at PRC.

"We have missed a total of 10 practices due to the tournament and bad weather," said Arban. "With exception of those 10 days, I have been pleased with our workouts."

Jodie Simmons, Richard Foley and Tim Berry, at this time, hold the quarterback positions for the Cats. Four or five freshmen quarterbacks will join the club but some will be used at other positions.

Arban is pleased with the efforts of three signal callers working out now. "Jodie Simmons is an above average passer," said Arban. "His successfulness will depend on our protection."

Holding the fullback positions are Doug Douglas, Rusty Hightstreet, and Darren Williamson.

"Doug Douglas is a real fine football player that works hard," stated Arban.

Anthony Jackson, Andy Coleman and Denise Rogers do the 'shakin' and 'bakin' at the tailback position.

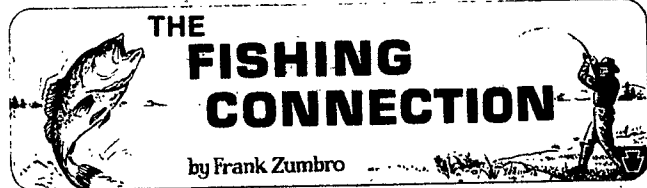

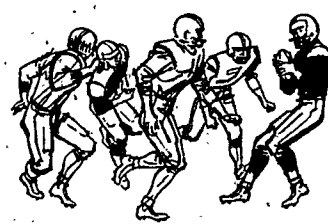

"All three have a lot of talent," said Arban. "We put a strong emphasis on the fundamentals for these three." The kicking fuze is a confident spot for the coaching staff but Arban stresses the need in a punt snapper.

"Our main concern at the moment is at the linebacker, offensive and defensive line-men position," said Arban. "We'll hit you, and that's good, but we have to play smarter."

PRC will indeed need to play smart football to compete well against the competitive teams of the state. Coach Arban knows his limits from a coaching standpoint but he sets his goals to the utmost.

"My goal," said Arban, "is to take the players and the ones coming in and get the most out of each individual player."

SELECTING THE RIGHT LINE

With spring only a few weeks away, this is a good time to inspect your fishing tackle, clean up the rods, oil the reels, and repair any damage to guides and tips.

Check your line and if it's been used and has been on your reel since last season, replace it. Using old line that might have been nicked or damaged is poor economy. Your line is the only connection between you and the fish and is one of the least expensive items in your tackle box.

What should you look for in a fishing line? The Du Pont Company, manufacturers of "Stren" monofilament line for nearly 20 years, says there are at least seven important properties to consider: good tensile strength, abrasion resistance, shock resistance, controlled stretch, proper limpness, high knot strength, and good visibility. Let's consider what each contributes to your fishing.

Tensile strength is a measure of the force required to break the line. You'll recognize it in the test weight of the line, expressed in pounds. It's also related to the diameter of the line, and a high tensile strength means increased strength at a smaller diameter. That's important because a smaller diameter line not only offers less resistance to wind or water, giving you easier, longer casts, but also lets you put more line on your reel.

Abrasion resistance is the line's ability to resist damage or wear from being dragged over rocks, sand, gravel, submerged tree trunks or other obstacles that can cut and saw away at the line. Too little abrasion resistance means rapid wear, frequent replacement, and greatly increases the possibility of losing a lunker.

Shock resistance denotes the ability of the line to absorb the full impact of a sudden strike and the wild gyrations of a hooked fish without breaking. Closely related to it is controlled stretch. . . too much stretch and you may not feel the strike in time to set the hook; too little stretch and the line can snap under impact.

Limpness, sometimes confused with softness, is a big factor in castability of the line. Too much limpness will result in sloppy casting, especially with spinning reels, while too little limpness makes the line wily and hard to handle.

High knot strength is pretty self-explanatory. Whenever line loops over or around itself, as it must in a knot, there's a chance for failure. High quality line like "Stren" has the built-in strength and toughness to resist that cutting action. Good knot tying technique, of course, is very important for a carelessly tied knot will cut the best of lines. The right choice of knot, properly tied, should hold for the full test rating of the line.

Finally, you want a line with good visibility, so you can see exactly where it is entering the water. That's a big plus when you're going after a fish that gently mouths or one that toys with the bait. By watching the line where it enters the water you often can see a strike before you feel it. That gives you a valuable time edge in setting the hook and may be the difference between a catch or a miss.

Du Pont takes care to build the best possible balance of properties into its "Stren" line. This results in a line performance, that gives the fisherman, whether pro or beginner, a better chance to successfully land his fish. And this year they've introduced a new tougher, more durable "Stren" that lab tests indicate is considerably more durable than other monofilaments. The durability of new "Stren" has been greatly improved while still maintaining the excellent balance of these seven properties.

Fishing with a top quality line can make angling a lot more fun and much more productive. You might find lower-priced line but don't forget that the line on your reel is the least expensive part of your fishing trip. It doesn't make sense to try to save a few pennies and risk losing a great catch because of poor line performance.

Frog hunters warned of early gigging

Each year as late winter turns into early spring, one of the first things on the minds of many outdoorsmen is frog gigging. This year state conservation officers are concerned that some hunters have forgotten there is a season on frogs, and it is not open now.

"Frog hunting has been a popular sport in our state during early spring and summer for many years. We hope it will continue," a Commission spokesman said.

"All we want hunters to do is be familiar with the new frog season and hold off catching them until June 1. It is a violation if anyone is caught hunting them now."

Game and Fish biologists say that the new season on frogs came about partly from public hearings held in recent years in the Delta region. Persons there expressed concern that there are fewer frogs to be hunted in their area due to problems with pesticides and diminishing habitat for amphibious creatures.

Frog season opens June 1 and extends through October 31. Hunters may bag 25 and possess 50. However, game officials say only 25 may be taken in any one night. The minimum fine for hunting frogs out of season is $25.

Ross Barnett offers money for fish

For a long time bass tournaments have given cash prizes to fishermen catching the most and the biggest bass. But shortly Ross Barnett anglers stand a chance to earn a few bucks any time they go bass fishing.

During March and April, Game and Fish research biologists will tag and release approximately 800 large-mouth bass on Barnett Reservoir. Working with local bass clubs and businesses, the Game and Fish Commission is offering cash rewards for each tagged fish caught and reported on the 33,000 acre lake. Biologists say the lucky fish may be caught in all areas of the reservoir from Pelahatchie Bay north to Lowhead Dam.

One of the bass will be worth $500, 42 bass will be worth $100 each, and the remainder will bring $5 each. To collect the reward, fishermen should drop a note to Fish Tagging, Miss. Game and Fish Commission,

P.O. Box 451, Jackson, MS 39205. They should include the date of capture, area of reservoir caught, and the tag.

Fisheries biologists say the program should spark some interest in fishing on the lake and aid them in determining the percent of bass being caught in the lake each year.
